I don't know what to write. I don't know you very well. All I know is you're nice, looking and popular with the girls. You're also a good artist. Keep it up. Remember for mine? You set her heart on fire and didn't you know?

Cheer for the Class of Fifty!
Aiming higher with all our might,
Cheering on for the Red and White,
Three cheers for the Class of Fifty!
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Class Song

Words by WILLIAM BARKLOW

Music by WILLIAM TRAXLER, RONALD MCCLEARY

We, the Class of 1950
Ceasing never, always thrifty,
Will forever, onward fight
For our colors, the Red and White.

When we leave dear C. H. S
May we always do our best,
Strive to do what is the right,
Always faithful to the Red and White!

CHORUS

1950! 1950! 1950! So
Hitch your wagon to a star,
Whether it be near or far,
If in life this is your aim,
Later it may bring you fame.

This year the varsity basketball team enjoyed a very successful season. Under the direction of Coach Lowell W. Schlichter, the Trojans won the South Penn Conference for the seventh consecutive year. Chambersburg completed the season with a record of thirteen wins and only one defeat in conference competition. Their only loss, which was to Waynesboro in the first half, was avenged in the second half when the Trojans defeated the Tornadoes by a convincing score of 68-41.

Tennis Club

The objective of this club is to develop a spirit of team play. The club was organized into a competitive sport a few years ago and is currently attempting to build a schedule of teams representing schools of this district. During the season of 1949 such teams as Hanover and Scotland were carded on a home and away basis. The members of the team hope to develop the sport into a five-man club with the possibility of earning a C upon the completion of certain qualifications.

The "C" Club

The "C" Club is an organization of boys who have won at least one letter in a major school sport either football, basketball, baseball, or track. The members of this club attempt to win the respect of their schoolmates by keeping sports on a high level. They try to develop among themselves and to instill in others the proper interpretation of school spirit.

History of Class of 1950

In September, 1946, we, a group of timid freshmen, entered the halls of the Chambersburg High School. We made our debut into the social activities by attending the Halloween Party. Mrs. Jandel C. Rebeck and Mr. Victor G. Foreman were chosen as our class advisers. We proved our acting ability by staging a clever talent show. We elected Richard Houser as president, Richard Smith, vice president, Margaret Deardorff, secretary, Miriam Frank and Joseph Traxson, treasurers, and Nancy Burkholder, historian.

As sophomores our first big event was the Hallowe'en Party, for which we supplied the decorations. We looked forward eagerly to Color Day and worked diligently on a class theme, motto, cheer, and song. Several members of our class helped stage a very entertaining play. "Aire in Wonderland" is part of the Color Day program. Margaret Deardorff and Kathleen Schaffert represented us in the Queen's Court. It was a proud moment for us when the president of the senior class presented our president, Richard Smith, with the red and white banner. Other officers of the year were Thomas Banfield, vice president, Margaret Deardorff, secretary, Doris Frank and Ronald McCleary, treasurers; and Nancy Burkholder, historian.

Ascending higher with all our might, we became juniors. Again we chose Richard Smith to lead our class. Richard Houser was vice president, Margaret Deardorff, secretary, Doris Frank and John Martin, treasurers, and Patricia Harman, historian. The main events of this year were the Junior Frolic, Color Day, and the Junior-Senior Reception. The Frolic as an "Under the Sea" dance was a huge success. Our class gift to the school was a light for the lecture room. Representing us in the Queen's Court were Kathleen Schaffert as Most of Honor, and Peggy Deardorff and Barbara Fogelsonger. Formally-titled couples danced in the artistically decorated gymnasium at the Prom and everyone had a wonderful time.

Finally we reached the top flight of stairs and became seniors. Again we elected Richard Smith as president, Richard Houser, vice president, Margaret Deardorff, secretary, Doris Frank and John Martin, treasurers, and Patricia Harman, historian. Members of our class helped to make the football and basketball teams winning ones. Various money making projects were carried on to help finance our trip to Washington. We look forward enthusiastically to our Commencement, "The History of Medicine," the Junior-Senior Reception, and our Washington trip.

Ballads

THE REDS

By ZANE HODGES

On yon midwestern plains there lies
A city known to all;
Full famed for many a thing it is,
But mostly for baseball.

True, Cincinnati's baseball teams
Have seen their better days,
But fans thereof will tell a tale
Unique in many ways.

A tale, forsooth, 'twould scare wee tykes
A snuggling in their beds;
Aye, many an older man doth quail
When told of Abner Pfedds.

The tale of Abner Pfedds runs thus:
'Twas on a balmy day,
A Cincinnati baseball team
Went out, a game to play.

Nine men went out onto the field,
Old Pfedds with all the rest;
And as a pitcher of the game,
Was classed with all the best.

But this was not old Abner's day,
He'd pitched a mite too long,
And as each inning did progress,
The game just went all wrong.

Boom! Boom! The bats did bang the ball,
Of putouts there were few
This was by far the darkest day,
That Abner Pfedds e'er knew.

Arose within that giant frame
Of forty years or more,
A fervent passion stronger far
Than it had known before.

He rush-ed down from off the mound,
And with his spik-ed shoe,
He flail-ed at the other team,
And beat them black and blue

The blood did flow as red as wine,
In truth, a terrible sight;
And on the honor of that field,
Indeed, 'twas quite a blight.

'Twas long ago this deed was done
By bloody Abner Pfedds
But evermore his team was called
"The Cincinnati Reds."

FOGGY THOUGHTS IN THE MORNING

By RICHARD GARLER

When shrill alarm wakes me up
Before the dark has gone,
It seems that I just went to bed,
And now here comes the dawn.

That ghastly clatter splits my head
And makes my nerves all shrink.
I stretch and groan and twist and turn
And then begin to think.

The duties of the coming day
Rise up before my view
A history test, a class in trig,
Poor soul, what can I do!

A home room program still to plan—
Horrors! What shall it be?
If someone else would work it out,
'Twould suit me to a T.

An English ballad yet to write—
The saints deliver me!
Poetic thoughts aren't in my line;
They rise right up and flee.

More work to do in chemistry
I must get on the ball;
If I don't work a little more,
My marks are sure to fall!

Oh, how I wish this day were o'er,
With all its dreary chores,
I dread it like the crack of doom
And long for pleasant shores.

Will that shrill ringing never stop?
I guess I must roll out.
Another day of school is here—
I'm ready for the bout!

A STUDENT'S DEATH

By WILLIAM KELLY

Now John he was an able lad;
He worked hard at his books.
He slaved and strived to do his best,
But profs did this o'erlook.

Once he had strength and physique grand,
But now he's weak and wan.
Hundreds of tests his brain have dulled;
His life is all but gone.

When on his bed of death he lay,
All eyes with tears did fill.
As with his last short, gasping breath
He told us this, his will.

"To Mother dear I leave my shirt,
The sweat-stained one of white,
The one I used to wear when I
Worked at my books all night.

"To Father dear my car I give,
The beat-out old jalop;
It used to carry me to school
Where worked I 'til I dropped.

"To Brother dear I leave my desk,
All scratched and stained and worn.
On it I did my teachers' work;
For them I have but scorn.

"To all my teachers dear I give
This thought before I'm gone,
'Next time you give such big lessons,
Please think of our poor John.'"

Senior Log

SEPTEMBER 6—Satisfied seniors give lingering looks at those carefree summer days but clutch the reins with assurance as they start on the last mile of their journey through C. H. S.

SEPTEMBER 28—Smiling seniors climb to the third floor. Reason? Paper rates. Now nice big smile. That's right. Click, click, click. "Next!"

OCTOBER 10—Favorite expression of the week: "Mum, would you please say a message?"

OCTOBER 11—Most popular food: Hershey bars. Day lends from the Glee Club.

NOVEMBER 4—The band presents a spectacular pageant for Pennsylvania Week.

NOVEMBER 11—Our football team wins the envied South Penn Conference.

DECEMBER 19—The Glee Club presents their annual Christmas concert and their long-awaited vacation begins!

JANUARY 19—Cram! Cram! Cram!
H₂O plus Ca (ocl) CL equals ????
How do you spell Nibelungenlied?
What are the five influences of the frontier?
Oh my, and examinations are tomorrow.

JANUARY 27—Brrr—The seniors sponsor the Ice Spree, a very successful dance.

FEBRUARY 4—Poet reading. Ugh! And this is only the second time. Two down and three to go.

FEBRUARY 18—The Schacharen men bring the first of South Penn Championships up to seven.

MARCH 10—We take a bow to the seniors. Their trip was very special and was most hand neat!!!

MARCH 11—Bow Hoo! Despite the energy and effort put forth at the York game, we lose.

MARCH 30—Aftermath of class meeting—we must get those permission slips for Washington signed. (legally or otherwise?)

APRIL 2—Oh that Echo room. More deadlines to meet
Typical conversation: Student—"Isn't that a wonderful idea!"
Adviser—"How much will it cost?"
Money—NO ideas!
Ideas—NO money!

APRIL 11—Everyone's in a hurry. Teachers are determined to reach the last chapter. Results—tests and more tests. Easter vacation begins. Four whole days of bliss.

APRIL 17—We're a Class of '50! The seniors sing with car songs and cheers. One's sentimental note—it can't happen for us anymore.

MAY 5—Gee! This year we really enjoy the Prom. No backaches from decorating.

MAY 12—Examinations become very important. Pass—Washington! Fail—Chambersburg!

MAY 18—Washington, we are here! "So much to be done and so little time."

MAY 29—Graduation. We take the final step of our last mile. Reluctantly we hand over the reins to the juniors. Adieu, C. H. S., remember the Class of '50.
